GOOD NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Shirley W. Walton Extension Agent How to Save Time in the Kitchen

The heart of homemaking activities is usually in the kitchen. Women probably spend more time there than in any other room in the house. That is why efficient work methods are particularly important in this area. PLANNING AND ORGANIZATION. The key to saving time is regular planning. Have a special corner to plan daily schedules of activities, menus and shopping lists. Write these in a notebook as a reminder and for future reference. Other family members may also be willing to make suggestions if you keep a memo pad handy. Don't confine all planning to one place or time of day but think of ways to ease chores as you go along. For example: *Think of all the items you will need at one time before opening the refrigerator and take them out together.

*Organize food shelvs so that different food categories -- vegetables, soups, desserts, seasonings - are grouped together. Selection of what you want is faster this way and, when preparing shopping lists, you can tell at a glance which supplies are running low.

*Have a filing system for loose recipes and menus.

*Fasten a magnet to a metal cabinet door to hold recipe cards or clippings for easy viewing when cooking.

KITCHEN EQUIPMENT. Housewares departments of stores have many tools and gadgets designed for specific uses. With some, you can do a better job in considerably less time than if you improvised with a standard tool. Some examples: *A Vegetable-and-fruit parer is better than a knife for speedy removal of paper-thin parings from vegetables and fruits.

* A notched-tooth opener for loosening screw tops and twist-off caps saves time and vacuum-sealed jars and bottles with a twist.

*A suitable measuring tool in each canister saves having to find and wash one each time you measure.

*A kitchen funnel avoids spilling and extra work when pouring liquids, flour, salt and other items into na..row-necked containers.

*A one-piece aluminum ice-cream dipper is handy if you serve this dessert often. It does not require rinsing after each scoop - ice cream does not stick to it. (To eliminate the frustrating job of searching through a drawer crammed with tools and gadgets each time you need one, mount them on a pegboard or a tool rack) Other useful kitchen items:

*A kitchen timer is excellent to remind you when cakes, steak, eggs, etc. are done. It also enables you to concentrate on other chores.

*A portable cutting board saves countless steps. For example, take it to the sink for preparing salads, to the range for carving, etc.

*An electric mixer and attachments can be used often if they are kept handy.

*An electric defroster takes most of the drudgery out of defrosting and reduces the time needed for this tedious job. An electric fan can also be used for this task.

*Magnetic potholders cling to the range and are always within reach.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Jaycees Prepare For First Annual Bluegrass Festival

The Appomattox County Jaycees are finding themselves rather busy these days in preparation for the county's First Annual Bluegrass Festival. This project is being presented solely by the Appomattox Jaycees and proceeds obtained from the event will be directed toward the support of county improvement activities. The two day event is scheduled to be held May 30th and 31st and the festival site will be Paradise Lake which is located approximately seven miles west of the town of Appomattox on U.S. Route 460. Entertainment will be provided by professional bluegrass bands well known in the bluegrass music field. The first program will begin at 7:00 p.m. May 30th and continue until mid-nite that same evening. The second program will get underway at 2:00 p.m. the following day, May 31st, and will also continue until mid-nite that evening. Admission for patrons 12 years of age and over will be $3.00 for Friday's event, $5.00 for Saturday's event or $7.00 for a combination Friday and Saturday ticket. Children under 12 will be admitted free. Rough campsites (i.e., no electrical, water or sewage hook-ups) will be available at no charge to holders of $7.00 combination tickets. Fresh water and sewage disposal facilities will be available however for everyone's use.

Henry Fulcher of Radio Station WFLO in Farmville will serve as Master of Ceremonies during the festival. The Jaycees will also operate a concession stand offering food and beverage. The Jaycees feel that an annual event of this nature would be of great benefit to the county and any cooperation offered by its citizens in helping to make it a success would be greatly appreciated.

Named Principal at AMS

Mrs. Hesteine Foster was honored with a breakfast given by teachers at Appomattox Elementary School library on Friday morning, her last day as Assistant Principal at AES. She was presented with a beautiful flower arrangement and an ash tray set.

Mrs. Foster has been appointed Principal at Appomattox Middle School for the remainder of this school session and for the 1975-76 school year. She will be replacing Mr. Daniel Davis who has resigned as Principal due to the condition of his health.

Working in the Appomattox County School System for approximately 20 years, she has been a teacher and was Assistant Principal at Appomattox Elementary School and Title I Director prior to being appointed Principal at the Middle School. She served in the position of Principal at Keysville Elementary School for one year.

Mrs. Foster assumed her new duties effective Monday, April 21, 1975.

Dr. Thompson Guest Speaker At Dinner-Meeting

A dinner and meeting was held at the Parkway Restaurant on Tuesday of last week, sponsored by Appomattox Dairy Supply, Southeastern Silo Company of Petersburg, DeMuth Steel Products, Company of Schiller Park, Ill., and Patz Equipment Company of Pound, Wisconsin.

After the dinner, Dr. Warren C. Thompson, economist, University of Kentucky, discussed ways of cutting costs by producing higher yields in 1975.

A film was shown on liquid manure handling.

Hollywood

Rev. Paul Balthaser brought a fine message Sunday night at Hollywood Church.

The youth had charge of the services Sunday morning. They did real well.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson of Vernon Hill, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Watson.

Mr. H. W. Jenkins went to see his mother, Mrs. Addie Jenkins and sister, Mrs. Ber Abbitt, at the Liberty Home and his brother, Julian Jenkins at Virginia Baptist Hospital Saturday. They all remain very ill. We pray they may soon be better.

Mrs. Ann Davis is a patient at Duke Hospital in Durham, N.C. Our prayers are with her and her loved ones.

We are very sorry to hear Toney Webb remains ill and pray he may soon be well.

Mrs. L. L. Webb is on the sick list. We pray she may have a speedy recovery.

Mr. L. L. Webb, Miss Joyce Webb, Miss Odell Webb visited their sister and aunt Sunday afternoon at the Holly Manor Nursing Home in Farmville.

In Mrs. George's class Wendy Lee, the President, brought the class to quietness. Sharon Cheatham and Jane Eagle led the 4-H and the American pledges. The Robin Bollinger and Robert Allen and the whole class played a puzzle.

Then Mr. Goldman and Mr. Sweet showed us slides on 4-H Camp.

Walter Drewry, Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodall and Mr. and Mrs. Twyman Baldwin called in the home of Mrs. Mary Bagby Saturday night. Mr. Alfred Almond called in this home last week.

GIRLS ENROLLED IN CONSUMER AND HOMEMAKING II at ACHS had a special treat last Thursday, April 16. Alice Franklin, a ninth grade student at ACHS spoke to approximately fifty of her classmates about cake decorating for a professional look.

During her talk, she demonstrated various designs to decorate a cake then put them to use by decorating a cake she had made for her class. She used decorator tubes and cones to show how to form leaves, roses, trims and borders, as well as writing.

On Friday, Alice helped other FHA girls celebrate Teacher Appreciation Day in conjunction with FHA Week by serving her cake to teachers and administrators at the high school.

Alice and her mother are enrolled in the cake decorating class sponsored by the Appomattox County School System. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Franklin of Vera.

FLOWERS FROM EGG CARTONS
